Raymond F.H. Bustamante of Berkley Construction Professional to Discuss Best-in-Class Professional Liability Risk Profiles at IRMI Construction Risk Conference

Roswell, Ga. (September 24, 2018) – Raymond F.H. Bustamante, executive vice president at Berkley Construction Professional, a division of Berkley Alliance Managers, a Berkley Company, will offer his perspective on best-in-class professional liability risk profiles at the IRMI Construction Risk Conference to be held from November 4 – 7, 2018 at the Marquis Marriott in Houston, Texas.

During the Tuesday, November 6 presentation titled Benchmark Yourself, Mr. Bustamante will highlight the risks inherent within many of today’s project delivery methods and the strategic value of the latest Contractor’s Professional Liability (CPrL) coverage types. This includes obtaining the most competitive terms through a comparison of best-in-class contractors and exploring the steps necessary for building stable business models, while successfully managing risk through every project phase.

“CPrL insurance is becoming increasingly prevalent in a changing construction marketplace that continues to blur the lines between design and professional services,” says Mr. Bustamante. “This presentation will explore ten of the variables used to evaluate contractor CPrL risks and the methods for helping brokers and their clients secure the best possible insurance coverage.”

Raymond F.H. Bustamante has more than 20 years of experience underwriting design and construction professional liability insurance. He is credited with creating many of the owners and contractor’s protective insurance coverages currently recognized industrywide as the preferred approaches to underwriting project specific design and contractor’s professional liability.
